

Australian Court Hierarchy

High Court of Australia

“The ultimate responsibility of the High Court is to maintain the rule of law. No government and no citizen is above the law... Judges decide disputes... according to law and free from the influence...”

- Murray Gleeson AC GBS QC, former Chief Justice, High Court of Australia.

The apex of the appellate system in Australia is the High Court. All decisions made in the High Court are final and binding on all lower courts across all geographical jurisdictions in Australia.

Supreme Courts / Courts of Appeal

There are no intermediate courts in the Australian Capital Territory or Northern Territory.

Intermediate Courts
(County/District Courts)

Federal Court of Australia

Federal Circuit and Family Court of Australia

Federal Courts

The specialist courts vary between each state and territory, and include the Children’s Court, Youth Justice Court, Warden’s Court and Drug Court.

Lower Courts
(Local/Magistrates Courts)

Specialist Courts

Coroners Court

The ability to appeal decisions made in lower courts creates a system of review, ensuring the law is interpreted and applied equally and fairly to all and supporting the achievement of just outcomes.

State/Territory Courts

← SCAN TO LEARN MORE! →